Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of India.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE, AGRICULTURE AND COMMERCE.

NOTIFICATIONS.—CUSTOMS AND SALT.

Nos. 379-381.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Department of Revenue, Agriculture and Commerce, dated Calcutta, the 18th November 1875.

READ—

Despatch from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No. 8 (Separate Revenue), dated the 29th July 1875, desiring an enquiry into the merits of the existing system by which the salt revenue is raised in the Madras Presidency under a Government monopoly and the expediency or otherwise of replacing it by altered arrangements, together with other correspondence on the subject.

OBSERVATIONS.

HIS HONOUR the President in Council observes that the question of substituting an excise for the existing monopoly system has already been disposed of as regards the two western districts of Madras. As regards the expediency of effecting a similar change of system in the rest of that presidency, the information available is too imperfect to permit as yet of any definite conclusion being arrived at.

2. Looking to the serious importance of the whole subject, economically, fiscally and socially, His Honour has decided, after communication with the Government of Madras and with their cordial concurrence, to appoint a Commission to investigate and report thereon. Accordingly, His Honour the President in Council is pleased to nominate the gentlemen noted on the margin to be a Commission for this purpose.

3. The following questions, among others, will more specially engage the attention of the Commission:—

I.—What is the quality and composition of the salt produced at the various works and sold by Government wholesale and by the dealers retail in different parts of the presidency?

II.—Are there any grounds for supposing that the people would prefer, or appreciate, a better quality of salt than that now supplied to them? Is it anywhere the practice to re-dissolve and evaporate the Government salt in view to obtaining a purer article for consumption? Is it anywhere the practice for the wholesale purchasers of and dealers in Government salt to adulterate it before allowing it to pass into the consumer's hands? Upon this subject it will be interesting to ascertain if any Bombay salt has been introduced into the Presidency of Madras by land since the opening of the railway.

III.—What is the actual cost to Government of the monopoly salt, including under cost all expenditure or loss, actual or constructive,

* i. e., a system under which the licensed manufacturer defrays all expenditure which Government incurs to secure itself against any violation or evasion by the manufacturer or his servants of the excise law and rules.

on account of or connected with the salt, that would be avoidable were the entire salt supply furnished under a self-supporting* system of excise, or imported by sea, made to pay duty before leaving bond and left thereafter free from interference?

IV.—What is the actual retail selling price of monopoly salt (adulterated or not, as the case may be) in town and village bazaars in different portions of the presidency; and if in any locality this very materially exceeds the Government monopoly price, what are the items that compose the excess? The Commission should collect information regarding the distribution of the salt, the cost of carriage to different parts of the Presidency, and the amount of such salt which is exported to other parts of British India and to Native States; and give their opinion as to the average annual consumption of salt per head in the Madras Presidency.

V.—Is the system under which Government now obtains its salt in any respect needlessly costly? What is the average percentage of wastage—first, between the time of manufacture and the taking over the salt by Government, and second, between this latter and the final sale by Government?

VI.—What is the extent and value for purposes other than salt manufacture of the whole of the land in the presidency now occupied by open salt works?

VII.—Are there any, and if so what, practical difficulties attendant on substituting a system of excise for the present monopoly?

VIII.—What would be the probable result—first, as regards the cost to the consumer, second, as regards the net revenue to Government—of substituting an excise for the present monopoly?

IX.—The Commission will also examine and report on the cost of manufacturing salt in Pooree and other salt works in Orissa which border upon the Madras Presidency.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Governments of Madras, Bombay and Bengal, for information and guidance, and that this Resolution be published for general information.

9. HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS was received on landing by His Excellency the Governor of Bombay, the Chief Justice, His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the Roman Catholic Bishop, the Members of Council, the Judges of the High Court of Judicature at Bombay, the Additional Members of Council, the Commissioner in Sind, the Commissioner of Customs and Opium, the Revenue Commissioners, the Secretaries and Under-Secretaries to Government, the Chairman of the Corporation of Bombay, the Chairman of the Bench of Justices, the Municipal Commissioner, and the Sheriff of Bombay.

10. The Native Princes, Chiefs and Sirdars, assembled in Bombay in honor of His Royal Highness, attended on the occasion.

11. Immediately after landing at the Dockyard, HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS THE PRINCE OF WALES received from the Municipal Corporation of the City of Bombay the following address :—

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS,—We, the Chairman and Members of the Municipal Corporation of Bombay, esteem it a high privilege to be allowed, in the name of the Corporation and of all the inhabitants of this city, to greet your ROYAL HIGHNESS, at your landing on the shore of India, with an address of loyal welcome. We rejoice that your ROYAL HIGHNESS should have selected Bombay as the starting point of your Indian travels; for this city is in itself perhaps the most striking example India can present of the beneficial results that may be produced by the impact of western civilization on oriental character and institutions, and of the success that may attend earnest and judicious efforts to reconcile all the various races of this country to British rule.

Bombay may lay claim to the distinction of being a Royal City, for this Island first became an appanage of the Crown of England through forming part of the dowry of Charles the Second's Portuguese bride; and during the two centuries that have since elapsed, Bombay has had every reason to be grateful for this fortunate change in her destiny. From a barren rock, whose only wealth consisted in cocoanuts and dried fish, whose scanty population of 10,000 souls paid a total revenue to the State of not more than £8,000 a year, whose trade was of less value than that of Tanna and Bassein, and whose climate was so deadly to Europeans that two monsoons were said to be the life of a man, she has blossomed into a fair and wholesome city, with a population which makes her rank next to London among the cities of the British Empire, with a municipal revenue amounting to £300,000 a year, and with a foreign commerce worth forty-five millions and yielding in customs duties to the Imperial Treasury three millions a year. All this material prosperity she owes to the strong and wise Government which has secured her in the enjoyment of peace and order, of equality before the law, of religious liberty, and of freedom of trade, and has thus given confidence to men of all races and creeds—Europeans, Indo-Portuguese, Hindoos, Mahomedans, Parsees, and Jews—to pursue their various callings under the shadow of the British flag.

We gladly, therefore, seize the occasion of your ROYAL HIGHNESS' presence amongst us to record our sense of the blessings of British rule, and to assure your ROYAL HIGHNESS of our devotion to that Throne which has become the enduring symbol of concord, liberty, prosperity, and progress to all the multitude of nations that own the benign sway of QUEEN VICTORIA. We beg that your ROYAL HIGHNESS will convey to Her most Gracious Majesty the expression of our loyal sentiments, and of our gratification that Her Majesty has sent the Heir to the Crown amongst us to become personally acquainted with the people of India.

We regret that YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS' consort, the PRINCESS OF WALES, so much and so deservedly beloved by the English people, has not been able to accompany YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS on this journey, to learn for herself in what honor her name is held in India. We pray that the God of all nations may watch over YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS, and bring your happy design of visiting India, of which we to-day witness the auspicious commencement, to as happy a conclusion, so that it may be blest with good fruit hereafter in the strengthening of the ties of mutual interest, esteem, and good-will, which already bind the Imperial States of Great Britain to its greatest dependency.

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS replied as follows:—"I thank you most sincerely for your kind address, and I shall not fail to communicate to Her Majesty the Queen my sense of the loyalty to her Crown and person which is expressed, not only in your dutiful expressions of welcome, but in all I see around me on first landing in your beautiful Island. It is a great pleasure to me to begin my travels in India at a place so long associated with the Royal Family of England, and to find that during so many generations of British rule this great port has steadily prospered. Your natural advantages would have ensured a large amount of commerce under any strong Government, but in your various and industrious population I gladly recognise the traces of a rule which gives shelter to all who obey the laws, which recognises no invidious distinctions of race, which affords to all perfect liberty in matters of religious opinion and belief, and freedom in the pursuit of trade and of all lawful callings. I note with satisfaction the assurance I derive from your address that under British rule men of varied creeds and nations live in harmony among themselves, and develop to the utmost those energies which they inherit from widely separate families of mankind, whilst all join in loyal attachment to the British Crown and take their share, as in my native country, in the management of their own local affairs. I shall gladly communicate to Her Majesty what you so loyally and kindly say regarding the pleasure which the people of India derive from Her Majesty's gracious permission to me to visit this part of Her Majesty's Empire. I assure you that the PRINCESS OF WALES has never ceased to share my regret that she was unable to accompany me. She has from her very earliest years taken the most lively interest in this great country, and the cordiality of your greeting this day will make her yet more regret the impossibility of her sharing in person the pleasure your welcome afforded me. Gentlemen, I heartily thank you for your good wishes for my health and for a prosperous return from my journey. I fervently trust that the same good Providence which has prospered the rule of the British nation in India heretofore may yet further bless our efforts for the peace and good government of all parts of Her Majesty's dominion."

12. After HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS had replied to the address of the Municipal Corporation of the City of Bombay, the Principal Native Chiefs assembled in the Dockyard were presented to him by HIS EXCELLENCY THE VICEROY AND GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Port William, the 20th November 1875.

No. 1158 of 1875.—In modification of G. G. O. No. 139 of 1866, the Hon'ble the President in Council is pleased to authorize the grant of compensation for dearness of forage to all ranks of the Native Cavalry of the Bengal Presidency and Punjab Frontier Force who are in receipt of less than Rs. 200 per mensem, whenever the aggregate monthly cost of the horse's food calculated as shewn below exceeds Rs. 18-8:

Daily for each horse, four seers of gram or barley or five seers of bajra or other inferior grain; and 15 seers of grass, such as is ordinarily brought in by grass-cutters.

2. For horses of Commissioned and Non-Commissioned Officers, the cost of two seers of gram daily for the grass-cutter's pony and of the grass-cutter's wages (at Rs. 4 per mensem) may, in stations where grass is not bought, be reckoned as the cost of the grass. For other ranks one pony and one grass-cutter will be reckoned for every two horses, the pay of the grass-cutter being fixed, for the purposes of this calculation only, at Rs. 6-8 per mensem.

3. When grass is not procurable and its purchase consequently becomes unavoidably necessary, the price of the grass so purchased (15 seers per horse and 8 seers per pony) will be added to the cost of the grain for horse and pony and of the grass-cutter's wages, the whole being charged as the cost of the keep of the horse in calculating the amount to be drawn as compensation.

4. At stations where grass lands are rented or irrigated, the sum total expended annually on this account should be divided into twelve parts, one-twelfth part being included monthly in calculating compensation for dearthness of forage for the Regiment or Detachment. But no grass lands are to be rented without the previous sanction of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, and of the Government of India.

5. Charges for the purchase of grass will not be admitted without the clearest proof that its purchase was absolutely necessary, and such charges must be supported by a certificate from the Officer Commanding the Station and the Civil authorities explaining why the regimental grass-cutters are unable to procure grass. On the line of march this certificate will be signed by the Officer Commanding the Regiment and the Civil Officer of the district through which the Regiment may be marching.

6. This order has effect from the 1st December 1875.

No. 3181P.—At Dhar, on Monday the 15th November, the following address was presented in Durbar to His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General by His Highness the Raja of Dhar:—

To His Excellency Lord Northbrook, G. M. S. I.,
the Viceroy and Governor General of India.

MY LORD,—When I say I welcome Your Lordship most cordially and respectfully in my territory, I can scarcely be said to have done justice to my feelings; for it is very hard to express adequately the profound joy and the deep feelings of gratitude with which I am filled by Your Lordship's advent in this part of Central India. No Viceroy did ever come to this territory,—territory which, I am proud to say, possesses considerable interest and attraction for an antiquarian. I, therefore, beg to say that Your Lordship has conferred a very high honor on me and my family by thus kindly paying a visit to this quarter of Malwa.

Dhar, which, in times of yore when Vikramaditya ruled, was at the helm of the whole Indian Empire, or which in the time of Raja Bhoja was the very centre of Indian literature, dwindled almost into nonentity in the succeeding ages of rapine and plunder. Dear is the name of Sir John Malcolm to every Raja, nay, to every heart in Malwa. He it was who restored order and tranquillity in the heart of India; and it is to him that Dhar is specially indebted for its very being and stability.

I and my family owe a great debt of gratitude to that blessed Crown which you, my Lord, represent in this country. I am fully aware of the immense good which India has received from that nation in whose hands her destinies have been kindly placed by Providence. I really admire the justice, the benevolence, and the nobleness of mind that mark the British administration in India.

England and India! Though they are physically situated far off from each other, steam and iron, which in modern times almost annihilate distance, draw them side by side. They are brought still closer by mutual sympathy and unity of interest. Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen, who holds her sceptre in the far West, is, nevertheless, near to the hearts of all the Indian Princes and Indian population. The noble principles of administration carried into effect with equal ability by statesmen like Your Lordship, are the adamant foundation on which this love for the sovereign stands secure, and will know no abatement. My friend, Sir Henry Daly, has been doing his best to accomplish this end with respect to the Princes in Central India, and has succeeded marvellously well. Colonel Kincaid, with whom I am immediately concerned, has spared no exertions in this direction. And therefore, after paying a tribute of gratitude to Your Lordship, my thanks are due to both of these gentlemen.

My Lord, Your Excellency's visits to the Rajas and Princes of India have their own moral and political advantages. We see in free communication with us the Representative of that Paramount Power, to which the whole of India owes its peace, the sure pioneer of her now progressing prosperity. By these visits Your Lordship brings the Crown and protected Principalities into closer contact, impresses identity of interests and sympathies on the minds of the Princes and Chiefs, receives personally expressions of fidelity and allegiance to the sovereign power from them, and conveys to them, in return, assurances of protection and honorable independence.

I assure Your Excellency on the part of Dhar State that, in point of devotion and loyalty to Her Most Gracious Majesty, it will never be exceeded by any other State; and to the utmost extent of its limited capacity, it will never spare its efforts in promoting the diffusion of order, peace, and civilization.

Now, my Lord, I humbly beg Your Lordship to accept my most respectful and sincere thanks for the honor which Your Lordship has done to me and my house by this visit to Dhar and Mandoo, that has given me an opportunity of expressing my sentiments and feelings personally to Your Excellency; while I beg leave to express my hope that Your Lordship's Government, in the interest of all the Indians, may be long, prosperous and happy.

I remain, &c.,

ANNUND RAO POWAR,
Raja of Dhar.

DURBAR, DHAR,
The 15th November 1875. }

In reply, His Excellency thanked the Raja for the address and the cordial reception which he had received at Dhar.

No. 3182 P.—On the arrival of His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General at Neemuch, on Saturday the 20th November, the following address was presented to His Excellency by the Municipal Commissioners, to whom His Excellency returned a suitable reply:—

To His Excellency the Right Hon'ble Lord Thomas George Baring, Baron Northbrook of Stratton, C. M. S. I., the Viceroy and Governor General of India.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR LORDSHIP,—We, the undersigned Native Sowers and merchants of the Neemuch Cantonment, do hereby offer most humbly and submissively our hearty and most respectful welcome to your Excellency on arrival at this our Cantonment.

We esteem it a great happiness to welcome your Lordship here. The Representative of Her Most Gracious Majesty, Queen Victoria, Queen of Great Britain and Empress of India, under whose excellent rule we now lead prosperous and peaceful lives, and that too in the very place which was at one time the abode of violence and oppression.

Trade was then attended with much danger, but since the establishment of British rule, business has flourished and there has been easy and safe communication throughout the length and breadth of the district.

Able and energetic Officers rule over us with kindness and discretion. This also we owe to your Excellency's wise and judicious selections.

We therefore offer this our humble tribute of loyalty to our Empress Victoria, and to you, Her most worthy Representative. We will always pray for your Lordship's welfare and long life, and trust that your journey may be a prosperous one.

— We beg respectfully to subscribe ourselves,
Your Lordship's
Most humble, obedient and faithful Subjects,

SHEETH PHOOL CHUND,
Banker and Govt. Treasurer, Neemuch.

4. A Government Pleader or Government Prosecutor is entitled to such leave of absence and allowances when on leave, and to such acting allowances, as the authority who appoints him may think fit to grant; provided that no expense be caused to the Government.

Latitude of light-house on Manora point ... 24° 47' 21" N.
Longitude ... 66° 58' 15" E.
The light is fixed, 120 feet above the sea-level, visible in clear weather ... 16 miles.
In hazy weather, prevalent during the south-west monsoon, about ... 7 miles.
Present light very inferior. A dioptric light of the 2nd order recommended.

	Ft.	In.
Average rise and fall, Spring tides	9	6
Ditto ditto Neap tides ...	3	to 4 feet.
Depth of water in Entrance Channel at High Water—
Spring tides ...	29	feet.
Neap tides ...	24	to 26 feet.

DRAUGHT OF VESSELS ENTERING OR LEAVING PORT.

Vessels with a draught not exceeding 21½ feet can now enter and leave the Port without difficulty or delay during all seasons of the year.

During the fair season, from October to 15th May, vessels with a draught not exceeding 24 feet can now enter and leave the harbour.

Fixed moorings are placed for such vessels.

TIME OF TIDE FOR ENTERING PORT.

Sailing vessels should enter Port on the ebb-tide.

Steamers can enter either flood or ebb, and stand at once into Port.

N. B.—Masters of Ships should not, under any circumstances, attempt to enter the harbour without a Pilot.

HARBOUR IMPROVEMENTS.

Among the extensive works executed, a break-water* has been built, running out from Manora point S. by E. to a distance of 1,500 feet into 6 fathoms water; this affords complete shelter to the Entrance Channel during the south-west monsoon. Also a channel has been opened through the bar with a depth of 20 feet at low water spring-tides, 500 feet in breadth; the channel is marked by buoys, and these on entering should be kept on the port side distant about 150 feet.

Note.—A Mail Steamer arriving off the port at night and requiring a Pilot should fire two guns.

APPROACHING THE PORT.

COAST OF SIND.

Indus Banks.

The Coast of Sind below the parallel of 24° North latitude should be approached with great caution; too much attention cannot be paid to the lead, more especially in passing the Banks of the Indus.*

No sailing vessel should come nearer this coast than 20 fathoms by night, or in rough weather; or under 12 fathoms by day in fine weather.

The tides during the springs are strong, the flood sets S. E., and the ebb to N. W.

From March to the end of the monsoon, a strong south-easterly current is experienced, running at a rate of from 15 to 40 miles a day.

During the south-west monsoon, sailing vessels should make Ras Muari (Cape Monze),—which is 18 miles W. ½ N. from Manora Light-house,—and keep to windward of the port, if the weather is thick, or if the tide does not suit for entering the harbour. Allowance must also be made for a strong set to the south-east, which prevails more or less during the south-west monsoon.

Do not bring Manora point to the southward of East, or go under 15 fathoms near Cape Monze.

Masters of ships should endeavour to make the port at daylight, and can with safety approach into 8 fathoms at about 2 miles distance from the light-house, keeping it on any bearing from N. E. to N. by E., until boarded by a Pilot.

ANCHORAGE IN THE ROADS.

September to end of March.

Light-house N. by E. to N. N. E., distant one mile, 7 fathoms.

April and May.

Light-house N. N. E. to N. E., distant 1½ miles, 8 fathoms.

June to the middle of September.

Ships should not on any account anchor, but stand off and on, keeping the light-house bearing from N. by E. to N. E., 2 to 3 miles distant, until boarded by a Pilot or directed by signal.

(1st).—Messages which contain passages of figures.

(2nd).—Messages which contain any series or groups of figures* of which the signification is not understood by the original sending station.

(3rd).—Messages containing passages written in words of preconcerted meaning (Code), incomprehensible to the offices in correspondence, or containing words not forming part of any of the languages mentioned in Rule 4.

ART. VII.
Cipher messages.
in the latter case the cipher portions must be placed between parenthesis; the cipher text must be composed exclusively of Arabic figures.

RULE 9.—Messages must be legibly written in characters which have their equivalent in the official Code of telegraph signals, and which are in use in the country where the message is presented.

ART. VIII.
How messages must be written.
The body of the message must be preceded by the Address; which can be written in Code or abbreviated form; but in such case the delivery of the telegram is contingent on a previous arrangement between the Addressee and the Local Telegraph Office.

The signature can similarly be in Code or abbreviated form, or may be omitted. If inserted, it should be placed after the body of the message. If not inserted, the last word of the message replaces it.

The Sender of a private message can always be called upon to prove that the signature attached to it is genuine. He has, on his side, the power of including in his message the legalization of his signature.

ART. XIII.
Legalization of signature.
Every interlineation, reference, erasure or addition of words must be authenticated by the Sender of the message or his representative.

ART. VIII.
The Sender of the message or his representative.

RULE 10.—The Address must contain all the information necessary to insure the delivery of the message at its destination. Such information should be written either in French or in the language of the country to which the message is addressed.

ART. X.
Address.

The Address of private messages should always be such that delivery can be effected without difficulty or the necessity of making enquiries.

For large towns it should comprise the name of the street and the number of the house, or, in default of these particulars, the profession of the Addressee, or some such information.

For small towns the name of the Addressee ought, if possible, to be accompanied by information sufficient to guide the Office of delivery in case of any alteration in the Addressee's name.

The name of the country in which the residence of the Addressee is situated is indispensable, unless it is a capital or important town, and even then if there are two places of importance of the same name in different countries. It is included in the number of words charged for.

Messages the addresses of which do not contain these particulars are nevertheless transmitted, but in all cases the Sender must bear the consequences of insufficiency of address.

Messages the addresses of which do not contain these particulars are nevertheless transmitted, but in all cases the Sender must bear the consequences of insufficiency of address.

The Address of a message to be conveyed beyond the telegraph lines is written as in the following example :—

M. Müller. Stiglitz, express (or post) Berlin, the name of the terminal telegraph station being always written last.

The Address of a message for a ship at sea should contain, in addition to the ordinary directions, the name or official number of the vessel and its nationality.

Art. LVIII.

RULE 11.—The Sender must write immediately before the address of his message any instructions he wishes to give relative to its delivery, acknowledgment, collation, prepaid reply, being caused "to follow," &c. Such instructions if written in abbreviated form, as under, will be counted each as one word :—

Art. VIII.	Instructions as to delivery, &c.
	Postage prepaid (poste payée)	PP.
	Express charges prepaid (express payée)	XP.
	Acknowledgment prepaid (accuser de réception)	CR.
Art. IX.	Collation prepaid (telegramme collationné)	TC.
	Reply prepaid (réponse payée)	RP.
	To follow (Faire suivre)	FS.

When such instructions are given in unabbreviated form, they should be written either in French or in the language of the country of destination. If that language be not understood in the office of origin, the Sender is bound to annex a translation for its guidance.

RULE 12.—The Sender can prescribe the route he wishes his message to follow by writing the same on the message form in the place provided for the purpose. The administrations are not bound to conform to printed instructions regarding the route.

When the Sender prescribes the route to be followed, his wishes are complied with, unless the route indicated be interrupted, in which case no objection can be raised to the selection of an alternative route.

When no route is specified the message is sent by the least expensive one.

Art. XVIII.

RULE 13.—Any Sender can, on proving his identity, stop, if in time, the Cancellation of transmission of his message.

When the Sender withdraws or stops his message before transmission has been commenced, the charges are returned to him after deducting a fixed sum of 4 annas, the fee of the original sending Station; but if transmission has commenced, the Sender has a right to a refund only of the portion of the charge belonging to the distance not traversed.

If the message has been already transmitted, the Sender's only means of cancelling it is by a paid (Service) telegram addressed to the terminal Station.

The Sender must pay also for a reply if he desires to be informed by telegraph in what manner his request has been acted upon.

A Station which receives a message, requesting the suppression of another message, previously received, informs the Original sending Station by post in what manner the request has been acted upon, unless the Sender has prepaid a reply by telegraph.

DELIVERY OF MESSAGES.

RULE 14.—Messages may be addressed either

Art. XLI. to the place of residence of the Addressee, or poste restante or bureau restant (to wait arrival).
How messages may be addressed.

Messages which have to be sent to their destination by post, or which are addressed poste restante, are immediately sent by the office of destination to the Post Office and treated as registered letters, without charge either to Sender or Addressee —(see Rule 36).

RULE 15.—A message taken to the place of residence of the Addressee may

Art. XLII. be delivered either to the Addressee, to the adult members of his family, to his employés, lodgers, or guests, or to the porter of the hotel or house in which he resides, unless the Addressee has designated in writing a special person to receive it, or the Sender has instructed that the message be delivered to the Addressee only. This last demand, if made, should be mentioned in the Address of the message, and is written on the envelope by the Station of delivery.

When a message is addressed bureau restant (to wait arrival), it is delivered only to the Addressee himself or to a person duly appointed by him.

RULE 16.—When the message cannot be delivered, the terminal Station, if it

Art. XLIII. supposes that the address is insufficient or that it has been altered in transmission, intimates the fact by a Service telegram to the Station of origin, which verifies the correctness of the Address, and immediately rectifies any error. If, however, the Address be in Code, or abbreviated form, no advice of non-delivery is sent.

RULE 17.—If, in consequence of inaccuracy or

Art. XLIV. insufficiency of Address, or the absence or refusal of the Addressee, the expenses of a special messenger are not paid on arrival, the costs incurred are specified in the advice of non-delivery or refusal and ARE RECOVERABLE FROM THE SENDER.

CONTROL.

RULE 18.—The Government of India reserves

Art. 7. to itself the right of stopping any private message which may appear dangerous to the security of the State, or which may be contrary to the laws of the country, to public order or decency; and any intermediate Administration

Art. XL. may stop the transmission of such a message on condition of immediately advising the Administration to which the original sending Station belongs.

This control is exercised by the terminal or intermediate offices subject to recourse to the central Administration, which decides without appeal.

RECORDS.

RULE 19.—The originals and copies of messages,

Art. LXV. and the slips containing the Message drafts signals or similar papers, are how long kept. preserved for a period of eighteen months after date with all necessary precautions to ensure their secrecy.

RULE 20.—The originals or copies of messages can only be communicated to the Sender or to the Addressee after proving his identity, or to the authorized attorney of either.

The Sender and Addressee, or the authorized attorney of either, have a right to be furnished with certified true copies of the messages sent or received by them. This right ceases after the expiration of 18 months from the date of the message, and is contingent on the exact date of the message to which the request refers being mentioned.

For every such copy, a fee of 4 annas per 100 words, or fraction of 100 words, is payable.

SPECIAL MESSAGES.

RULE 21.—The Sender of a message can prepay the reply which he requests his correspondent to send. The amount deposited for the reply must not exceed three times the cost of the original message.

In this case he must write between the Address and the body of the message,

ART. XLVII. and pay for the notice "reply paid (or Reponse payée, or RP.)—words."

When a prepaid reply is requested, the station of delivery pays to the Addressee the amount deposited for the reply, either in money, in Telegraph Stamps, or by an order for payment on the Office, leaving it to the Addressee to send his reply at any time, by any route, and to any address he chooses.

The reply, when tendered, is considered and treated as any other message.

If the original message cannot be delivered within six weeks, or if the Receiver formally refuses the amount deposited for the reply, the Station of delivery informs the Sender of it by a telegram, which indicates the cause of non-delivery and takes the place of the reply.

RULE 22.—The Sender of any message can, by writing the word "Collation" (or "T.C.") immediately before the Address, ensure its being repeated. In this case the different Offices concerned in its transmission collate it integrally (i. e., it is repeated back from Office to Office to ensure its correctness). Collation is obligatory in the case of private cipher messages composed of figures.

The charge for collation is equal to half the charge for the message, any fraction of 2 annas being counted as 2 annas.

RULE 23.—The Sender of a message can, by adding the words "acknowledgment paid" (or "reception" or "CR.") immediately before the Address, ensure that a notice shall be telegraphed to him of the hour of its delivery.

If the message cannot be delivered the terminal station intimates the fact, and the reason, by a service telegram. (See Rule 16.) The return message paid for by the Sender is afterwards transmitted, either on delivery of the telegram, should that be found possible, or at the expiration of 24 hours in the contrary event.

The charge for an "acknowledgment" is that for a simple message of 10 words by the same route as that followed by the original message.

RULE 24.—The Sender of a message can by writing the words "To follow" (or "Faire suivre" or "FS") immediately before the Address ensure its following the Addressee to different Addresses, if necessary, within the limits of Europe.

When a message bears the notice "Faire suivre" or "To follow," the terminal Station, after presenting it at the Address given, transmits it immediately, if requisite, to any new Address supplied at the residence of the Addressee. If no new Address is supplied, the message is kept in the Office and its non-delivery reported (see rule 16). If the message is retransmitted, and the second Station cannot find the Addressee, the message is retained by that Station.

If the notice "Faire suivre" or "To follow" is accompanied by successive Addresses, the message is successively transmitted to each, if necessary, and the last Office treats it in accordance with the regulations of the preceding paragraph.

The charge for a message "To follow" to be levied from the Sender is simply the charge to the first terminal Station, all the Addresses entering into the number of words charged for. The supplementary charge is recovered from the Addressee.

RULE 25.—Any person, by explaining the necessity, can request that messages which may arrive at a Telegraph Office to be delivered to him, within the radius of delivery of that Office, be re-transmitted in conformity with the conditions of the preceding paragraphs, to the Address which he furnishes; this request must be made in writing.

ART. LIII. Multiple messages. RULE 26.—Telegraphic messages may be addressed:—

- i.—to several persons in different places;
- ii.—to several persons in the same place;
- iii.—to the same person in different places, or at several residences in the same place.

In the two first cases, each copy of the message bears only its own Address, unless the Sender requests the contrary, in which case the request must be entered after the Address, and will be charged for.

A message addressed to several persons, or to one person, in localities served by different offices, is charged for as so many separate messages.

A message addressed to several persons in the same locality, or to one person at several places of residence in the same locality (whether with or without transmission by post), is charged for as a single message; but a copying fee of 4 annas per 10 words, plus 4 annas for the excess, is charged for each destination after the first.

RULE 27.—In applying the preceding Rules, the facilities given to the public for prepayment of Replies or Acknowledgments, collation of messages, messages to follow, multiple messages or messages for transmission beyond the limits of the Telegraph Lines, can be combined; subject to the conditions of Rule 11.

RULE 28.—The minimum charge is:—

ART. XV. (a).—In ordinary messages for Messages charged by a single word not exceeding the words or group. 10 letters, or for a group of figures not exceeding five.

(b).—In cipher messages, for a single group not exceeding 5 figures.

- (b).—Messages transmitted to an Office situated near a frontier, to be delivered by post in the neighbouring territory, are posted as unpaid letters, and the postage is payable by the Addressee.

PAYMENT.

RULE 37.—The charges on messages are prepaid by the Sender. The following are, however, exceptions, and are recovered from the Receiver:—

Exceptions. 1st.—The charge for messages sent from sea by Semaphore.

2nd.—The supplementary charge for onward transmission of messages "To follow" (Faire suivre).

3rd.—The expense of transport beyond the Telegraph lines by quicker means than the post, in States where such service is organized. (The Sender of a message for which an Acknowledgment has been prepaid can, however, prepay this transport by depositing a sum for the purpose, to be fixed by the Station of origin subject to after-adjustment. The Acknowledgment mentions the amount expended.)

In every case where charges are to be made on arrival, the message is not delivered till payment of the amount due is received.

RULE 38.—Insufficient charges received in error, or charges not recovered sufficient and excess through refusal of the Addressee to defray them in full or through his not being found at the address given, MUST BE MADE GOOD BY THE SENDER.

Excess charges made in error are returned, but the value of Telegraph stamps attached to a message in excess of the correct charge by the Sender, can only be recovered by application to the Check Office (see Rule 41).

FREE MESSAGES.

RULE 39.—Messages relating to the traffic requirements of the International Telegraph Service are transmitted free.

REFUNDS.

RULE 40.—The whole cost of any message which has suffered a serious delay in transmission, or which has not been delivered through the fault of the Telegraph Service, is refunded to the Sender by the Administration which received it.

In case of delay the claim for reimbursement is absolute if the message did not reach its destination sooner than it would have done by post, or if the delay exceeds 6 days.

No refund is given for errors in uncollated messages, but the whole cost of a collated message is returned to the Sender, if, in consequence of errors in transmission, it has manifestly failed to fulfil its object.

ART. LXVII. Mutilation.

In the case of interruption on a sub-marine line, the Sender of any message has a right to a refund of the portion of the charge belonging to the distance not traversed, deduction being made, if necessary, of the expense incurred in sending the message by any other mode of transport.

These rules do not apply to messages which pass over the lines of a non-adhering Administration which would not on its side make similar refunds.

RULE 41.—Every claim for reimbursement of charges ought to be made to the CHECK OFFICE, GOVERNMENT TELEGRAPH DEPARTMENT, CALCUTTA, and be supported as follows:—In case of non-delivery, by a written statement from the terminal Station or Addressee; in case of mutilation or delay, by the copy actually delivered to the Addressee, and by a certificate stating that, in consequence of the errors complained of, the message failed to fulfil its object. The particular errors which led to this result should also be specifically mentioned. A complaint regarding a received message may, if the Addressee chooses, be addressed to the CHECK OFFICE which, if possible, disposes of it, otherwise it is returned to be presented at the Office of Origin.

If the Sender does not reside in the country where he deposited his message for transmission, he can have his claim forwarded to the original Administration through the medium of another Administration. In this case, if it becomes evident on investigation that the claim is well founded, the latter is deputed to make the refund.

When a claim to refund is admitted to be well founded by the Administration in fault, the refund is made to the Sender by the CHECK OFFICE.

Complaints are not forwarded when the fault complained of does not give the Sender a claim to refund, or has resulted from an omission or irregularity on his part.

RULE 42.—The charges on messages stopped in transit under operation of Rule 18 are returned to the Sender.

RULE 43.—The refund rules apply only to the cost of the actual messages lost, delayed, or mutilated, and not to the cost of any further correspondence caused or rendered useless by such loss, delay, or mutilation, except in the case of the exception mentioned in Rule 38.

RULE 44.—Every claim should be made, under penalty of rejection, within six months of the date of the message.

No. 3359 P.—The following General Convention between the Governments of Great Britain and of Tunis which appeared in the London Gazette of the 29th October 1875, is re-published for general information :—

GENERAL CONVENTION BETWEEN THE GOVERNMENTS OF GREAT BRITAIN AND OF TUNIS.

Signed in the English and Arabic languages, July 19, 1875.

The Government of Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and His Most Serene Highness Mohammed Essadock Bey, Lord of the Regency of Tunis, being desirous to maintain and improve the relations of friendship and commerce which have long subsisted between them and between British and Tunisian subjects, have resolved to proceed to a revision and improvement of the Treaties subsisting between the respective countries, in consequence of which the following stipulations have been entered into and concluded between His Most Serene Highness the Bey, and Richard Wood, Esquire, Companion of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath, Her Majesty's Agent and Consul-General, duly authorized to that effect.

ARTICLE I.

Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland may appoint, besides her Political Agent, such Consuls, Vice-Consuls, and Consular Agents in the Regency of Tunis as she may deem necessary; and such Consuls, Vice-Consuls, and Consular Agents shall be at liberty to reside in any of the seaports or cities of His Highness the Bey, which they or the British Government may choose and find most convenient for the affairs and service of Her Majesty, and for the assistance of her subjects.

ARTICLE II.

Every mark of honour and respect shall at all times be paid, and every privilege and immunity allowed, to Her Majesty's Agent and Consul-General accredited to His Highness the Bey which is paid or allowed to the Representative of any other nation whatsoever; and respect and honour shall be shown to the British Consuls, Vice-Consuls, and Consular Agents, who shall reside in the Regency of Tunis. Their houses and families shall be safe and protected. No one shall interfere with them, or commit any act of oppression or disrespect towards them, either by word or deed; and if any one should do so, the Tunisian authorities shall take immediate measures for the punishment of the offender. The British Consuls, Vice-Consuls, and Consular Agents shall, moreover, continue to enjoy, in the most ample sense, all the privileges and immunities which are now or may be hereafter accorded to the Consuls, Vice-Consuls, and Consular Agents of the most favoured nation.

ARTICLE III.

The British Agent and Consul-General shall be at liberty to choose his own interpreters, brokers, guards and servants, either from among the natives or others. His interpreters, brokers, guards, and servants shall be exempt from the conscription, and from payment of any poll-tax, forced contribution, or other similar or corresponding charge. In like manner, the Consuls, Vice-Consuls, and Consular Agents residing at the Tunisian ports under the orders of the said Agent and Consul-General, shall be at liberty to choose, that is to say, the Consuls, each one interpreter, one broker, two guards, and three servants; the Vice-Consuls and Consular Agents, each one interpreter, one broker and one guard, and two servants, not being in the military service, who shall likewise be exempt from the conscription, from the payment of any poll-tax, forced contribution, or other similar or corresponding charge. No prohibition nor tax shall be put upon the provisions, furniture, or any other articles which may come to the said Agent, and Consul-General, Consuls, or Vice-Consuls, for their own use and for the use of their families, upon their delivering to the Officer of the Customs a note under their hand specifying the number of articles which they shall require to be passed on that ground, but this privilege shall only be accorded to Consular Officers who are not engaged in trade. If the service of their Sovereign should require their attendance in their own country, no impediment shall be offered to their departure, and no hindrance shall be offered either to themselves or their servants, or in regard to their property, but they shall be at liberty to go and come, respected and honoured. If they should depute another person to act for them in their absence, they shall not be prevented in any way from so doing, nor shall the deputy be prevented from acting in that capacity.

ARTICLE IV.

There shall be reciprocal freedom of commerce between the dominions of Her Majesty the Queen and the Regency of Tunis. British merchants or their agents and brokers shall be permitted to purchase at all places within the Regency, whether for the purposes of internal trade or of exportation, all articles, without any exception whatsoever, being the produce or manufacture of the said Regency; and the purchaser shall be free to remove his goods, when purchased, from one place to another, without any attempt being made on the part of the Local Governors to interfere with them.

ARTICLE V.

In accordance with the friendship which has at all times existed between the two Governments, His Highness the Bey engages to protect British subjects who may come to his country either for the purposes of trade or for travelling. They shall be free to travel or to reside in any part of the Regency without hindrance or molestation; and they shall be treated with respect, love, and honour. They shall be exempt from forced military service, whether by land or by sea; from forced loans, and from every extraordinary contribution. Their dwellings and warehouses destined for the purposes of residence and commerce, as well as their property, both real and personal, of every kind, shall be respected, and, in particular, all the stipulations of the Convention concluded between Her Majesty's Government and His Highness the Bey on the 10th of October, 1863, relative to the permission granted to British subjects to hold real property in the Regency of Tunis, are hereby confirmed. And British subjects, vessels, commerce, and navigation shall enjoy, without any restriction or diminution, all the privileges, favours, and immunities which are now or may hereafter be granted to the subjects, vessels, commerce, and navigation of any other nation whatever.

Her Britannic Majesty, on her part, engages to insure to Tunisian subjects, vessels, commerce, and navigation within her Dominions, the enjoyment of the same protection and privileges which are or may be enjoyed by the subjects, vessels, commerce, and navigation of the most favoured nation.

ARTICLE VI.

The perfect security which His Highness the Bey accords to the British merchants and subjects who may reside in the Regency extends likewise to the free exercise of the rites of their religion. They shall be free to erect churches, upon the application of the British Agent and Consul-General to His Highness the Bey, who will grant the necessary permission. The British Cemetery of Saint George, and other burial places, now or hereafter to be established, shall be protected and respected as heretofore.

ARTICLE VII.

His Highness the Bey engages that he will not prohibit the importation into the Regency of any article, the produce and manufacture of the dominions and possessions of Her Britannic Majesty, from whatever place arriving, and that the duties, to be levied upon such articles of produce or manufacture so imported shall in no case exceed one fixed rate of eight per cent. ad valorem, to be calculated upon the value of such merchandise at the place of landing, or a specific duty, fixed by common consent, equivalent thereto.

Such articles, after paying eight per cent. import duty, shall not be subject to any other internal charge or impost whatsoever, whether the buyer be a Tunisian or a foreigner. And if such articles should not be sold for consumption in the Regency, but should be re-exported within the space of one year, the Administration of the Customs shall be bound, provided the bales or packages have not been opened, to restore, at the time of their re-exportation, the duty levied to the merchant, who shall be required first to furnish proofs that the goods so exported have paid the said import duty.

After the expiration of one year the merchant shall be free to re-export his foreign goods without claiming the drawback, and the Custom-house shall not levy upon them any duty whatsoever on re-exportation.

Should a British merchant or his agent desire to convey, by sea or by land, from one port or place to another port or place in the Regency of Tunis, goods upon which the ad valorem duty above mentioned has been already paid, such goods shall be subject to no further duty, either on their embarkation or disembarkation, provided they be accompanied by a certificate from the Tunisian Administrator of Customs that the duty has been paid.

And it is moreover agreed that no other or higher duties shall be imposed on the importation of any article, the produce or manufacture of one of the Contracting Parties into the country of the other, which shall not equally extend to the like articles, being the produce or manufacture of any other country.

ARTICLE VIII.

Vessels navigating under the British flag and vessels navigating under the Tunisian flag shall be free to carry on the coasting trade in the States and Dominions of the Contracting Parties. They shall enjoy the same rights and immunities as are enjoyed by national vessels, and they shall be free either to land a portion of their cargoes, or to embark goods, foreign or native, to complete their cargoes, in each other's ports, without being obliged in each case to procure any special license from the Local Authorities, or to pay any charges and dues that are not paid by national vessels.

The stipulations of this Article shall however, as regards the Colonial coasting trade, be deemed to extend only to the coasting trade of such of the Colonial possessions of Her Britannic Majesty as, under the provisions of the Act relating thereto, may have opened their coasting trade to foreign vessels.

ARTICLE IX.

His Highness the Bey formally engages to abolish all monopolies of agricultural produce or of any other article whatsoever, save and except tobacco and salt, and save and except the fisheries, and the tannery of hides of oxen, camels, and horses.

British subjects, however, or their agents, buying or selling salt and tobacco in virtue of licenses or permits for consumption in the Regency of Tunis, shall be subject to the same regulations as the most favoured Tunisian subjects trading in the two articles aforesaid; and furthermore, they shall be free to compete for, obtain, and exercise the right of fishery, subject to the local laws and regulations.

ARTICLE X.

If British merchants or their agents in the Regency of Tunis should purchase any article of Tunisian produce or manufacture for internal consumption, the said merchants or their agents shall not pay, on the purchase and sale of such articles, any higher duties or charges than are paid, under similar circumstances, by the most favoured class of Tunisians or foreigners engaged in the internal trade of the Regency of Tunis. In like manner Tunisian merchants or their agents in the British dominions shall not pay on the purchase and sale of British produce or manufactures, for internal consumption in the said dominions, higher duties or charges than are paid by British subjects or the most favoured foreigners engaged in the internal trade of the said dominions, upon similar articles of produce or manufacture.

ARTICLE XI.

If a British merchant or his agent shall purchase for exportation any article of Tunisian produce or manufacture, either at the place where such article is produced or in its transit from that place to another, upon which article of produce or manufacture the internal taxes known by the names of "Ushr," "Kanoon," and "Mah-soulat," and others, have been already levied, such article of produce or manufacture shall be subject at the port of shipment to the payment of the export duty only, and the notarial fees and charges for measurement established by law.

ARTICLE XII.

In case of any dispute arising between the Custom-house and the merchant regarding the value to be put upon any merchandize or goods imported by him into the Regency of Tunis, the merchant shall be free to pay the duty in kind, in the most equitable manner.

Should, however, the merchant be unable or unwilling to make use of the above faculty, the Custom-house shall have the right to purchase such merchandize or goods at the price at which the merchant has valued them, with an augmentation of 5 per cent.

But should the foregoing two modes fail to solve the difficulty, His Highness the Bey and Her Majesty's Agent and Consul-General shall each name an arbitrator, being a merchant, and, in case of a divergence of opinion, the two arbitrators shall name an umpire, also a merchant, whose decision shall be final.

ARTICLE XIII.

With a view to the encouragement of agriculture, His Highness the Bey furthermore engages to permit the importation, free of import duty and of every other internal charge, of agricultural implements and machinery, as well as of cattle and animals for the improvement of the native breeds, whenever such agricultural implements, machinery, cattle, and animals are proved to be for private use and not for purposes of trade, in which latter case they shall be subject to the payment of an import duty not exceeding 8 per cent.

ARTICLE XIV.

In case the importation of foreign wheat, barley, and Indian corn should be rendered necessary in consequence of the failure of the crops, in consequence of famine or other causes, which God forbid, such foreign wheat, barley, and Indian corn shall be as heretofore exempt from the payment of any import duty, and shall be subject only to the payment of 20 karoobs (7½d.) per kaffis.

With the exception of the above three articles, all other foreign provisions, such as rice, lentils, beans and other pulse known by the appellation of "Hashbahesh" (dried vegetables) shall pay an import duty not exceeding eight per cent., but the importer or his agent shall be free to sell such provisions in retail or in any other manner without the payment of any other charge whatsoever.

ARTICLE XV.

It is understood between the Contracting Parties that the Tunisian Government reserves to itself the faculty and right of issuing a general prohibition against the importation into the Regency of gunpowder, unless Her Majesty's Agent and Consul-General shall think fit to apply for a special license, which license shall, in that case, be granted provided no valid objection thereto can be alleged.

Gunpowder, when allowed to be imported, shall be subject to a duty not exceeding eight per cent., and shall be liable to the following regulations:—

1. It shall not be sold by subjects of Her Britannic Majesty in quantities exceeding the quantities prescribed by the local regulations.

2. When a cargo, or a large quantity of gunpowder arrives in a Tunisian port on board a British vessel, such vessel shall be anchored at a particular spot, to be designated by the local authorities, and the gunpowder shall then be conveyed, under the inspection of such authorities, to depôts or fitting places, designated by the Government, to which the parties interested shall have access under due regulations.

Gunpowder imported in contravention of the prohibition, or in the absence of the license aforementioned, shall be liable to confiscation, save and except small quantities of gunpowder for sporting reserved for private use, which shall not be subject to the regulations of the present Article.

Cannon, arms of war, or military stores, as well as anchors, masts, and chain cables, shall be imported free of duty, provided they are landed at the opened and recognized ports; provided, also, that previous to the landing of cannon the permission of the Government is obtained.

ARTICLE XVI.

The people of the Contracting Parties shall have the right to establish in each other's country commercial, industrial, and banking companies, co-operative, or mutual or shareholding associations, or any other association, whether between and amongst themselves, or between them and Tunisian subjects or subjects of any other Power: provided the object of such companies and associations be lawful, and subject always to the laws of the country in which they shall be established.

It is, however, understood, that no joint stock companies limited, whose capital is made up of nominal shares to bearer, and no anonymous association shall be established in their respective territories without the authorization of the local Government.

ARTICLE XVII.

British subjects and Tunisian subjects shall be free to exercise in each other's country any art, profession, or industry; to establish manufactories, and factories, and to introduce steam machinery or machinery moved by any other power without being subjected to any other formality or to the payment of higher or other taxes and imposts than those prescribed by the laws or municipal regulations, or which are paid by natives.

It is understood that the manufactories and their appurtenances, being immovable property, shall be subject to the provisions of the Convention of the 10th October, 1863, relative to the permission granted to British subjects to hold real property in the Regency of Tunis.

ARTICLE XVIII.

No harbour, pilotage, light-house, or quarantine dues, or other local dues, shall be levied upon British vessels, which are not imposed upon Tunisian vessels or upon the vessels of the most favoured nation.

If a British vessel shall enter a Tunisian port from stress of weather and depart, it shall not be subject to the payment of the aforesaid dues, but shall pay only the fee to the pilot, should a pilot be required. Should such vessel, however, visit a Tunisian port for the purpose of procuring water and of purchasing provisions, it shall pay only a portion, not exceeding half, of the harbour, pilotage, light-house, and quarantine or other local dues payable at the said port.

In like manner Tunisian vessels which shall visit any of the ports of Her Majesty's dominions shall pay only the harbour, quarantine, and other dues which are levied upon British vessels.

ARTICLE XIX.

The captains of merchant-vessels having goods on board destined for the Regency of Tunis shall, on their arrival at the port where such goods are to be landed, deposit in the Custom-house of such port a true copy of their manifest.

ARTICLE XX.

If a British subject be detected in smuggling into the Regency any description of goods or should be detected in embarking any goods, the produce of Tunis, for which he can exhibit no Custom-house permit, such goods shall be confiscated by the Tunisian Treasury, but a report or procès-verbal of the alleged contraband must, as soon as the said goods are seized by the authorities, be drawn up and communicated to the British Consular Authorities, and no goods can be confiscated as contraband unless the fraud with regard to them shall be duly and legally proved.

It is stipulated that vessels navigating under the British flag shall submit to the regulations of the port; that such vessels, speronaras, boats, and the like craft shall not serve as depôts for merchandise; and that whenever their detention in the Tunisian ports shall exceed eight calendar months, they shall, when required to do so, give satisfactory explanations to the British Consular Authority and to the Local Authorities in regard to the motive of their detention in such ports. Should such explanations be deemed unsatisfactory, the Custom-house may, with the consent of Her Majesty's Agent and Consul-General, place a guard on board for the prevention of fraud, the expenses for such guard being at the charge of the vessel.

ARTICLE XXI.

Should British subjects desire to embark in, or discharge goods from, any vessel, they can employ the Tunisian Custom-house boats, paying the usual charges for the use of such boats. They are free, however, to discharge their merchandise without using the Custom-house boats, in which case they will apprise the Administration of the Customs of it in writing, taking care to mention, on the arrival of each steamer or vessel having goods on board to their consignment, that they will be present themselves, or be represented by their agents, to assist at the discharge of said goods. In case of their absence, however, the Custom-house will proceed to discharge their goods, rendering itself responsible as heretofore, unless in a case of "force majeure." No sort of claim can be preferred by the consignee against the Custom-house on the plea that it had not the right to discharge his goods, seeing that the discharge is made with the sanction of the master of the vessel, and not with that of the Custom-house.

Every consignee who discharges his goods after making the demand in writing, will provide himself with a Custom-house officer, who will accompany him to the vessel and return with him to the Custom-house. The fee to the Custom-house officer shall be paid by the merchant.

ARTICLE XXII.

Whenever the Tunisian Government shall temporarily prohibit the exportation of wheat, barley, cattle, or any other article of native produce, such prohibition shall not come into operation until three months after official notification shall have been given, and shall apply only to the specific article or articles mentioned in the Decree enacting the prohibition.

ARTICLE XXIII.

No British subject, nor any person under British protection, shall, in the Regency of Tunis, be made liable to pay a debt due from another person of his nation unless he shall have made himself responsible or guarantee for the debtor by a valid document. Neither shall any British subject be compelled to sell any thing to, or to buy anything from, a Tunisian without his own free will. The seller shall be obliged to deliver up to the purchaser only that portion of the goods which he voluntarily sold to him, and the purchaser shall have no claim or right upon the remaining portion of such goods or merchandize.

In like manner, no Tunisian subject in the Dominions of the Queen of Great Britain shall be made liable to pay a debt due from another person of his nation to a British subject, unless he shall have made himself responsible or guarantee for the debtor by a valid document.

ARTICLE XXIV.

In all criminal cases and complaints where the prosecutor and prisoner are British subjects, and in all civil differences, disputes, or litigation which may occur between British subjects exclusively, the Agent and Consul-General, Consul, or other British authority, shall be sole judge or arbiter. No one shall interfere, but they shall be amenable to the British Consular Courts only.

All civil differences, disputes, or litigations between British subjects and the subjects of any foreign country other than Great Britain, shall be decided solely in the Tribunals of the foreign Consuls, according to the usages heretofore established, or which may hereafter be arranged between such Consuls, without the interference of the Tunisian Courts or Government.

ARTICLE XXV.

Disputes and differences arising between a British and a Tunisian subject, whether the British subject is plaintiff or defendant, of a commercial and civil nature (criminal and correctional excepted), shall be settled by His Highness the Bey, or his delegate, in the presence and with the concurrence of the British Consul-General or Consul.

It is likewise agreed that, should any new procedure differing from the above be adopted and applied at present, or in future, in the treatment of any other nation, the British subjects, without exception, shall be entitled to the enjoyment thereof, whenever Her Majesty's Government shall request it.

It is, however, understood that if Mixed Courts should be at any time established in Tunis with the assent and approval of Her Majesty's Government, in that case all civil and commercial suits and disputes arising between British and Tunisian subjects shall be heard and determined by such Mixed Courts and Tribunals, according to the rules and procedure that may be agreed upon between the Contracting Parties.

ARTICLE XXVI.

The cognizance of crimes committed by British subjects in the Tunisian territory, as well as all contraventions of the police, and other regulations, shall devolve upon the Consul-General or Consul; and the punishment thereof shall be applied by the said Consul-General or Consul, in concurrence with His Highness the Bey. In case the criminal or offender should escape from the Consular, or other prison, the Consul-General or Consul shall not be held responsible in any manner whatsoever.

ARTICLE XXVII.

No quittance or receipt presented by a British subject to a Court, purporting to be a discharge of a debt which he has contracted towards a Tunisian subject, shall be held as a legal and a valid discharge, unless he can show that such quittance or receipt is under the handwriting, seal, or signature of the Tunisian subject or duly executed by native notaries, and attested by the Cadi or the Governor of the place. And in like manner no quittance or receipt presented by a Tunisian subject purporting to be a discharge of a debt which he has contracted towards a British subject, shall be held as a legal and valid discharge of his debt, unless he can show that such quittance or discharge is under the handwriting, signature, or mark of the British subject, duly attested by the Consul, or unless the discharge is drawn up by two notaries and attested by the British Consul.

ARTICLE XXVIII.

Should any Tunisian subject be found guilty before the Tunisian Courts of procuring false evidence to the injury or prejudice of a British subject, he shall be severely punished by the Tunisian Government. In like manner, the competent British Consular authorities shall severely punish, according to English law, any British subject who may be convicted of the same offence against a Tunisian subject.

ARTICLE XXIX.

If, at any time, Her Majesty's Agent and Consul-General, Consul, Vice-Consul, or Consular Agent, should require the assistance of soldiers, guards, armed boats, or other aid for the purpose of arresting or transporting any British subject, the Tunisian authorities shall immediately comply with the demand, on payment of the usual fees given on such occasions by Tunisian subjects.

ARTICLE XXX.

If a ship belonging to the Queen of Great Britain, or to any of her subjects, should be wrecked or stranded on any part of the coast of the Regency of Tunis, the Tunisian authorities within whose jurisdiction the accident may occur shall, in accordance with the rules of friendship, respect her and assist her in all her wants. They shall allow and enable the master to take such steps as he may think necessary or desirable, and shall take immediate steps for the protection of her crew and of her cargo, and of any goods, papers, or other articles which may be saved from her at the time of the wreck or afterwards; and, moreover, they shall lose no time in informing the nearest British authority of the accident. They shall deliver over to him, without exception or loss, all the cargo, goods, papers, and articles which have been saved and preserved from the wreck, and they shall likewise furnish the master and the crew of the wrecked ship with such victuals and provisions as they may require, for which they shall receive payment. For their friendly aid and services in protecting, saving, preserving, and restoring to the British Consular authorities the goods and contents saved through their exertions from the wrecked vessel, or any portion thereof, they shall be entitled to such an amount of salvage as Her Majesty's Agent and Consul-General and the Chief Tunisian authority on the spot shall judge a fair compensation for their services. The master and crew shall be at liberty to proceed to any place they please, and at any time they may think proper, without any hindrance.

In like manner, the ships of His Highness the Bey, or of Tunisian subjects, shall be assisted and protected in the dominions of the Queen of Great Britain as though they were British ships, and shall be subject only to the same lawful charges of salvage to which British ships, under similar circumstances, are liable.

ARTICLE XXXI.

Should, however (which God forbid), the crew or any portion of the crew of a wrecked or stranded British vessel be murdered by the natives, or its cargo, or any part of its cargo or contents, be stolen by them, the Tunisian Government binds itself to take the most prompt and energetic measures for seizing the marauders or robbers, in order to proceed to their severe punishment. It, moreover, engages to make the most diligent search for the recovery and restitution of the stolen property; and whatever compensation for the damage done to individuals or to their effects, under similar circumstances, is granted, or may hereafter be granted to the subjects of the most favoured nation, or the equivalent of it, shall be also accorded to the subjects of the Queen of Great Britain.

ARTICLE XXXII.

It is agreed and covenanted that if any of the crew of Her Majesty's ships of war or of British merchant-vessels, of whatever nationality they may be, borne on the papers of said ships, shall desert within any port in the Regency of Tunis, the authorities of such port or territory shall be bound to give every assistance in their power for the apprehension of such deserters, on the application of the British authority. In like manner, if any of the crew of the ships of His Highness the Bey, or of Tunisian merchant-vessels, not being slaves, shall desert in any of the ports or harbours, within the dominions of Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain, the authorities of such ports or harbour shall give every assistance in their power for the apprehension of such deserters on the application of the Commanding Officer, Captain or any other Tunisian authority, and no person whatsoever shall protect or harbour such deserters.

ARTICLE XXXIII.

The ships of war belonging to Her Majesty the Queen, and the ships belonging to His Highness the Bey, shall have free liberty to use the ports of each country for washing, cleansing, and repairing any of their defects, and to buy for their use any sort of provisions, alive or dead, or any other necessaries, at the market price, without paying custom to any officer.

And it is moreover agreed that, whenever any of Her Majesty's ships of war shall arrive in the Bay of Tunis, and shall fire a salute of twenty-one guns, the Castle of the Goletta, or the Tunisian ships of war, shall return the same number of guns as the Royal salute to Her Majesty's colours, according to ancient usage.

ARTICLE XXXIV.

The Government of the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in consideration of the sincere friendship that has at all times existed between Her Majesty and His Highness the Bey, agrees that Tunisian ships and cargoes shall be received at the ports and harbours of the British dominions upon the same footing as British vessels and cargoes.

ARTICLE XXXV.

British vessels arriving in any of the Tunisian ports for the purpose of trade or by reason of stress of weather, or to repair damages, shall not be compelled to discharge their cargoes or any portion of their cargoes, and they shall not be made to change their destination or to receive any passengers on board unless it be with their own free will, but they shall be respected, and they shall be allowed to depart without any hindrance. Should they be compelled to land their cargoes, or a portion thereof, in order to effect repairs, they shall also be permitted to re-embark such goods free of any duty or charge whatsoever.

Tunisian vessels shall receive the like friendly treatment in ports and harbours of the British dominions.

ARTICLE XXXVI.

If any British subject should die in any place or territory appertaining to His Highness the Bey, no Governor or other Tunisian officer shall, on any pretence whatsoever, take possession or dispose of, or interfere with, the goods and property of the deceased, but such goods and property, of whatever description, may be taken possession of by his heirs, or by the British Consular authority, without any hindrance or impediment whatsoever on the part of such Governor or Tunisian officer.

If, however, a British subject should die at a place where there is no British Consul, or whilst travelling, in such a case the Tunisian authorities of the place where he died shall be bound to preserve and protect his goods and effects: they shall make, with the assistance of notaries, a faithful inventory of them, which inventory they shall lose no time in sending to the nearest Governor of a place where an English Consul resides.

Should the deceased British subject leave behind him debts due from him to a native, the Consul-General or his deputy shall assist the creditor in the recovery of his claim upon the estate of the deceased; and, likewise, if the deceased should leave behind debts due to him from Tunisians, the Governor, or those who have such power, shall compel the debtors to pay what is due by them to the Consul-General or his deputy for the benefit of the estate of the deceased.

ARTICLE XXXVII.

The British Government and His Highness the Bey, moved by sentiments of humanity and having regard to the free institutions which, under Providence, their respective countries happily enjoy, mutually engage to do all in their power for the suppression of slavery. Whilst, on the one part, the British Government engage not to relax their efforts with friendly powers for the prevention of the barbarous traffic in human beings, and for the emancipation of slaves, His Highness the Bey especially engages, on the other, to cause the Declaration of Moharem, 1262 (23rd January 1846), abolishing for ever slavery in the Regency, to be obeyed and respected, and to use his utmost efforts to discover and punish all persons within his Regency who contravene or act contrary thereto.

ARTICLE XXXVIII.

The British Government and His Highness the Bey engage to do all in their power for the suppression of piracy; and His Highness especially engages to use his utmost efforts to discover and bunish all persons on his coasts or within his territory who may be guilty of that crime, and to aid the British Government in so doing.

ARTICLE XXXIX.

Privateering is now and for ever abolished: His Highness the Bey being desirous to maintain inviolable the neutrality of the Regency of Tunis, it has been established and agreed that in case of war or hostilities, he shall not permit the enemies of Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain to fit out privateers in the ports of the Regency, or to sail from them to prey upon the ships and commerce of her subjects; and it is moreover established that His Highness shall not permit or tolerate in the Regency of Tunis the sale of any prize whatsoever which shall have belonged or may belong to the belligerents.

The Queen of Great Britain will cause to be observed the same rules of neutrality towards Tunisian ships and subjects in all the seaports of Her Majesty's dominions.

ARTICLE XL.

In order that the two Contracting Parties may have the opportunity of hereafter treating and agreeing upon such other arrangements as may tend still further to the improvement of their mutual intercourse, and to the advancement of the interest of their respective people, it is agreed that at any time after the expiration of seven years from the date of the present Convention of Commerce and Navigation, either of the High Contracting Parties shall have the right to call upon the other to enter upon a revision of the same; but until such revision shall have been accomplished by common consent, and a new Convention shall have been concluded and put into operation, the present Convention shall continue and remain in full force and effect.

ARTICLE XLI.

If any doubt should arise with regard to the interpretation or the application of any of the stipulations of the present Convention, it is agreed that in Tunis the interpretation the most favourable to British subjects shall be given, and in Her Majesty's dominions that most favourable to Tunisians. It is not pretended by any of the foregoing Articles to stipulate for more than the plain and fair construction of the terms employed, nor to preclude in any manner the Tunisian Government from the exercise of its rights of internal Administration where the exercise of those rights does not evidently infringe upon the privileges accorded by the present Convention to British subjects or British commerce.

ARTICLE XLII.

The stipulations of the present Convention shall come into immediate operation and shall be substituted for the stipulations of all preceding Treaties between Great Britain and Tunis, with the exception of the Convention of the 10th of October 1863, already referred to in Article XVII preceding, which is renewed and confirmed.

This Convention has been written in triplicate, consisting in forty-two Articles, besides the introduction, and contained in the preceding forty-three pages, to be signed by both parties, and to be executed in the manner explained and clearly set forth in its several provisions, having for object the duration, confirmation, and maintenance of amity between them.

Dated Monday, the sixteenth day of Gumad-el-Thany, 1292 of the Hegira, corresponding to the nineteenth of July 1875.

No. 3365 P.—Subject to the confirmation of Her Majesty's Government, His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General in Council is pleased to recognize the appointment of Mr. Charles Zerrenner, as Acting Consul General for Turkey at Bombay, during the absence of Hussein Effendi.

The 24th December 1875.

No. 3386 P.—In supersession of the Notification by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, dated the 18th December 1867, the Governor General in Council is pleased to declare the boundaries of the "Naga Hills District" to be as follows:—

Boundaries of the Naga Hills Agency.

North.—From the sources of the Dikhorri River in the Rengmah Naga Hills a line along the summit of the hills from which the Longung-tun, Barpung and Tarapung streams take their rise, to the sources of the Dahorijan, thence down the Dahorijan until it meets the Kolliani River, up the latter river to its junction with a small stream that flows into it from the west, about $\frac{1}{2}$ a mile, below the Aitonia-village of Kolliani, from whence in a straight line, due east for about 2 miles, until it cuts the Doigurang River, then up the latter river until it meets the path leading from Murphulani to the Nambor, from whence along that path for about $\frac{1}{2}$ of a mile until it meets the Tarajan, thence along the latter stream to its junction with the Dhan-siri River, and from thence up this latter river to its junction with the Doyang River, and finally up along the course of the Doyang River to its junction with the Haripani.

South.—From the sources of the Langting River below the peak about 8 miles almost due east of Semkhor a line along the summit of the hills from which the Jinam, Jhiri, and Makho Rivers take their rise, until it reaches the hill above the Naga village of Ungalnah or Galnah, from whence almost due east down a spur from that mountain until it cuts the Chuline River, from thence down the latter river until its junction with the Barak River and up the course of the latter river until its junction with the Zupoo River, from whence up the latter stream to its source in the Bur-rail range of mountains below the Tenepoo Peak, from whence a line of about 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ miles along the summit of that range to the Khunho Peak, and from thence down the main feeder of the Zullo River to a spot about a $\frac{1}{2}$ of a mile below where it is joined by this stream which has its source below the Tenepu Peak [and flows between villages of Veswemah and Khezamah] and from this spot up the small streamlet below the Napu Hill, on to the crest of the ridge dividing the Zullo from the Sijjo and between the villages of Kidimah and Phusami, then a line along the summit of this ridge from boundary pillar to boundary pillar for a distance of about $\frac{1}{4}$ of a mile where it turns off to the east, down the centre of a spur running between the two small feeders of a small stream named the Merori, thence down the latter stream to its junction with the Sijjo River, then up the latter river for about a mile until it meets a small stream named the Sokharri [flowing into it from the east] which stream then forms the boundary up to its source at Tellizo Peak.

West.—A line from the source of the Langting River in the Barrial mountains below the Peak about 3 miles east of Semkhor down the course of that river to its junction with the Disting River, and from thence down the latter river until it meets the Lamsakhong Nuddi, thence up the latter stream to its point of exit out of the hills, from whence along the foot of the hills, [in a succession of straight lines from head-land to head-land, that is to say from the foot of one spur to the foot of the next in a straight line, and not following all the sinuosities every little bay or valley] crossing the Lonkajan and the Dikhreng Khrong Nuddi at their respective points of exit from the hills and until it meets the Dimorujan, from whence down the latter stream as far as the village of Kaki Ramsa, from which point it turns off to the north, following the path between the latter village and the village of Sakher on the left bank of the Jamoona River, from whence up that river until it meets Samagurijan, thence up the latter stream for about 2 miles to its point of exit out of the Rengmah Naga Hills, from whence a line along the foot of the hills [again going from head-land to head-land] crossing the Zikok Digolpani, Salabor Longsompi and Horghati streams at their respective points of exit out of the hills and until it meets the Dikhorri River, which latter river then forms the boundary up to its source in the Rengmah Naga Hills. The Eastern boundary is for the present left undefined.

NOTIFICATIONS.

DARJEELING LINE.

Calcutta, the 16th June 1875.

No. 7686. — During the present season the experiment will be tried of offering the public a less expensive mode of conveyance to Darjeeling.

2. A limited number of wagonettes have been built, which are so constructed as to enable two passengers to lie down at full length. They are provided with cushions and hoods, and drawn by two horses, but they are not sufficiently protected from the weather to make them good for ladies or invalids. These are available at cheaper rates than the ordinary carriages, viz., 4 annas a mile for each passenger, or Rs. 25 for the through journey.

3. A wagonette will start from Karagola every day except Sunday and Monday, leaving on the arrival of the steamer, and will return from Silligore every day except Monday and Tuesday, starting at 11 A. M.

4. No luggage can be carried except a hand-bag, which should not weigh more than five seers. This rule is necessary and must not under any circumstances be infringed, as these vehicles convey the parcel mail. One traveller who, by the payment of Rs. 50 engages a whole wagonette, can take two maunds of luggage with him free.

5. Application for wagonettes should be made in the usual way to Post Master, Purneah, and should state which of the other forms of accommodation the traveller wishes in case a wagonette is not available.
